Orren Pickell

"Rumors of my death have been greatly exaggerated"

—Mark Twain

As you may know on Friday, July 7th a prominent group of Chicagoland businessmen purchased the assets of Orren Pickell Designers & Builders. We formed a new company, Orren Pickell

Building Group. This transaction puts the new company in the position of being debt free and well capitalized. I will be leading the charge as CEO and President with my daughter Lisa's assistance as Chief Operating Officer.

Throughout my career I have seen the ebbs and flows of the economy, but none as challenging as the past six years. Fortunately, relief is in sight. The headlines are positive, proclaiming a shift and sharing hopes of recovery. The proof is in the data which highlights rising prices, increased sales and more new construction.

With our team of professionals, deals being closed, and new projects underway in three states and throughout the Chicagoland area, the unparalleled craftsmanship of our homes, the supreme service and inventiveness which has been constant for almost four decades, will remain.

I love what I do and I look forward to continuing working with young couples who are building the homes in which they will start their families and with individuals who worked all their lives to retire in the home they always envisioned.

As President and Chief Executive Officer of the new company, I will continue building, designing and remodeling luxury custom homes. I will also ensure that each and every home in which my team is involved will contain unparalleled craftsmanship; that our customers will be professionally served, and that our designs remain inventive and fresh. After all, I have a 37 year reputation to protect!

Thank you, from the bottom of my heart, for your trust throughout my career.

All my best,

Orren Pickell
President and CEO, Orren Pickell Building Group, LLC

CONTEMPORARY, AWARD-WINNING METTAWA FARMHOUSE

"How can we make this happen?" This one question served as the foundation for a remarkable partnership which resulted in this exquisite Mettawa estate. Before hiring the Pickell team, the homeowners had a clear vision of the "must haves" for their dream home—a modern interpretation of a French farmhouse with abundant windows to bring the outdoors in and an open floor plan which allowed them to entertain. "When we bought the land, it was so overgrown you couldn't even walk through it. We had clear vision for what we wanted, but thought 'how can we make this happen?' The Pickell team's experience and creativity not only brought our vision to life, but took it one step further."

Above: In the living room, floor-to-ceiling windows provide sweeping views of the outdoors. Be sure and check out CS Interiors where this award-winning home will be featured in the Fall 2012 issue.

The homeowner's clear vision of their dream home focused on a specific floor plan and desire to exude modern style with a neutral palette. This wish list presented challenges which the builders and their skilled team were able to overcome with innovation and master craftsmanship. The distinct floor plan which the homeowners wanted was tweaked to ensure the home never cast a shadow upon itself, allowing the sunshine and lush greenery of the landscaping to always shine through the windows. For these dog and horse-loving homeowners it was also important that the floor be able to withstand the "wear & tear" of their four-legged friends without compromising the chic aesthetic of the home. To satisfy the homeowner's request, concrete was used on the flooring throughout the home—allowing for easy clean up after the dog enjoys a run in the yard or when the homeowners return from a day in the barn. The material also fulfilled their desire for a sleek look as there are no lines in the flooring, making it appear seamless throughout.

For many the best day of the design/build process is move-in day, but for these happy homeowners the process was equally enjoyable. From being hands on in every selection to working side by side with the firm to ensure no detail was overlooked, the homeowners delighted in helping the skilled team at Pickell make sure that it can happen.
