LAKE BLUFF, ILLINOIS Built in 1911 and sited on more than 11 lakeside acres, this magnificent Georgian-style mansion features well-preserved historical details, many updates, and wide water vistas. Extraordinary gardens by legendary landscape architect Jens Jensen surround the residence in natural beauty.

Comprising more than 14,000 square feet of living space, the house offers nine bedrooms and nine full baths. The entry hall leads to a lakeside dining room with incredible millwork, high ceilings, and parquet hardwood flooring—a feature found in each of the formal rooms. Suited to elegant entertaining, the living room claims a stunning marble fireplace, exceptional moldings, and access to a sunroom and a light-filled library. A chef's delight, the new kitchen has a glass-tile backsplash, granite countertops, and top-of-the-line appliances.

The spectacular second-story master suite highlights the accommodations, boasting dentil moldings, wainscoting, a marble bath, and a formal dressing room. The lower level hosts a large recreation room, an exercise room, and a spa. A coach house, pool, and poolhouse are also part of the estate. Three additional lots are separately available ■
