

Remodel and revitalize with Orren Pickell

Whether you're looking to recreate or create new space for your home, the Orren Pickell Remodeling Group offers superior service and work that its clientele has come to know, love and trust. Working with a team of experts provides a smooth and enjoyable experience at every stage of the process for your particular needs – whether your family is growing or you've outgrown your space.

From room additions and lower level build outs to whole house renovations, the Pickell team has been remodeling for years, creating dream spaces including luxury master suites, warm and welcoming family rooms, stunning sunrooms, state-of-the-art kitchens, media and entertainment centers, serene yoga studios, functional mud room additions and elegant powder room bump-outs.

Pickell makes sure all elements and stages of the remodeling process come together in a cohesive and cost-effective manner. This includes managing everything from design and construction to obtaining building permits and ensuring that a project complements the current interior and exterior architecture. Furthermore, Pickell's team of experts works diligently to help maximize your space and budget, providing a seamless experience resulting in flawless design, solid construction, and peace of mind.

One of the most significant opportunities available to clients is the dedicated attention and support of the Orren Pickell Maintenance Group. These experienced professionals are called upon to perform all levels of home repair and intervention. From the completion of each punch-list item after a project closes to an annual preventive maintenance program, their efforts and commitment to our clients keep each home in optimum condition inside and out.

There is no job too big or too small for the Maintenance Group. Their dedicated team also provides support and services on homes not built or renovated by Pickell, offering anyone the opportunity to take advantage of their top-of-the-line services. There are many benefits of working with the Orren Pickell Maintenance Group.

Pickell has 24/7 availability – their 24-hour emergency line ensures that your concern is captured and addressed promptly.

Pickell provides trust, confidence and results. Their dedicated technicians consistently receive high praise and appreciative testimonials from clients, and their proven history of success makes them one of the most reliable resources for establishing trust, confidence and client satisfaction.

They also provide valued partners and reliable service. When intervention beyond their efforts is required, they coordinate additional trade professionals to perform the necessary work. These are the same trusted partners used for their new custom home and remodeling divisions with outstanding reputations and decades of experience.

There is no job too big or small. Whether roof leaks and basement seepage are plaguing your home, or you just need assistance with wrapping and storing patio furniture for the season, you may rely on the Orren Pickell Maintenance Group to perform each task promptly and with an unsurpassed commitment to your satisfaction.
